The Provinces.

A public meeting was held at Kingston lately, to take steps for the reception of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, on his arrival in that ancient city. After the meeting had been addressed by the Mayor, Hon. Alex. Campbell and others, a committee was appointed to carry out the wishes of the meeting, and confer with the City and County Councils on the best way they should receive their august visitor.

Having obtained information lately that a quantity of goods had passed the frontier without paying the duties, Mr. Lamb, of this port, went to the railway station at Slabtown, and succeeded in discovering the contraband property. It consisted of thirteen heavy oblong cases filled with patent medicines, labelled "Comstock & Co." The cases in all weighed about thirteen cwt., enough in any event, if sold and distributed here, to cure or kill every cough, croup, ague, fever, and influenza patient in the county. To Mr. Lamb's vigilance is owing the discovery of this violation of the revenue laws. —St. Catharines Post.

Hon. C. Alley, Provincial Secretary, and Mr. Simard, who, with Mr. Dubord, were lately unseated by a Parliamentary Committee, as members for the City of Quebec, in consequence of fraud and violence practised by some of their supporters at the last election, have just been re-elected by acclamation.

A man named David Edgett was drowned lately by falling from a scow in front of Pettengill's wharf. He with others was engaged in assisting to load a ship: from some cause he slipped and fell over the side, and as the tide was running out strong at the time, all efforts to save him were of no avail. —St. John, N. B. Globe.

The good people of Montreal are discussing a plan of erecting a very large building in that city, to furnish a reception hall for the Prince of Wales, and also to give hotel accommodations for six thousand people. If the plan is carried into effect, the charge of the building will probably be placed in the hands of Coleman of the Montreal House.

Blondin the rope walker, is now suspending his rope across the great chasm of Niagara river at the most frightful point, directly over the dashing rapid at the head of the whirlpool, and just north of the Suspension Bridge.

There is a cow in Lachute, L. C., which gave birth to four calves on the 12th of March, 1860. She has had three times three calves at a birth; three times four at a birth; once two, and twice one, making alone since 1851 a total of twenty-five.

A son of Mr. Killaly, late of the Board of Works Department, was drowned last week in Ottawa by the capsizing of a boat which had come too near to the rapids.

The Montreal Transcript states that the Exhibition building is being pushed forward with great rapidity.

The steamer Canadian, which arrived at Father Point, on Saturday last, made the passage from Queenstown to that place in a little over nine days.

The City Council of Ottawa, at a late meeting, voted $12,000 to aid in getting up a grand demonstration on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city.

A fire in Portland, St. John, on the night of the 18th May, resulted in the burning of three houses, situated near St. Luke's Church.

Several buildings on Champlain street, Quebec, were recently destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $100,000.

There is some talk of a prize fight in Montreal.

The city of Woodstock, New Brunswick, recently destroyed by fire, is again springing up, Phoenix-like, from the ashes of the great fire.

It is in contemplation to adorn the Haymarket Square, Montreal, by a statue of Queen Victoria in Canadian marble.

A child of Thomas McCusker's, Dundas, C. W. met its death on Sunday last, from drinking laudanum, which it had obtained in a vial.

Dr. R. Knight, Vice President of the Methodist Conference of Eastern British America, is dead.

In Debt and Out of It.

Of what a hideous progeny of ill is debt the father. What meannesses, what invasion on self-respect, what cares, what double-dealing. How, in due season, it will carve the frank, open face into wrinkles; how, like a knife, it will stab the honest breast. And then its transformation! How it has been known to change a goodly face into a mask of brass; how, with the "damned custom" of debt, has the true man become a callous trickster! A freedom from debt, and what nourishing sweetness may be found in cold water; what tooth-someness in a dry crust; what ambrosial nourishment in a hard egg! Be sure of it; he who dines out of debt, though his meal be biseit and an onion, dines in "The Apollo." And then, for raiment, what warmth in a threadbare coat, if the tailor's receipt be in your pocket; what Tyrian purple in the faded waistcoat, the vest not owed for; how glossy the well-worn hat, if it cover not the aching head of a debtor; next, the home sweets, the out-door recreation of the free man. The street door falls not a knell on his heart; the foot on the staircase, though he live on the third pair, sends no spasm through his anatomy! At the rap of his door he can crow forth "come in," and his pulse still beat heartily, his heart sinks not in his bowels. See him abroad. How confidently, yet how pleasantly he takes the street; how he returns look for look with any passenger; how he saunters; how, meeting an acquaintance, he stands and gossips! But, then, this man knows not debt; debt, that casts a drug into the richest wine; that makes the food of the gods unwholesome, indigestible; that sprinkles the banquets of a Lucullus with ashes, and drops soot in the soup of an emperor; debt, that like the moth, makes valueless furs and velvets, enclosing the wearer in a festering prison (the shirt of Nessus was a shirt not paid for); debt, that writes upon preserved walls the handwriting of the attorney; that puts a voice of terror in the knocker; that makes the heart quake at the hunted fireside; debt, the invincible demon that walks abroad with a man, now quickening his steps, now making him look on all sides like a hunted beast, and now bringing to his face the ashy lure of death as the unconscious passenger looks glancingly upon him!

Poverty is a bitter daught, yet may, and sometimes with advantage, be gulped down. Though the drinker make wry faces, there may, after all, be a wholesome goodness in the cup. But debt, however cautiously it be offered, is the cup of a syren, and the wine, spiced and delicious though it be, is poison. The man out of debt, with a flaw in his jerkins, a crack in his shoe leather, and a hole in his hat, is still the son of liberty, free as the singing lark above him; but the debtor, though clothed in the utmost bravery, what is he but a serf out upon a holiday—a slave to be reclaimed at any instant by his owner, the creditor! My son, if poor, see wine in the running spring; let thy mouth water at a last week's roll; think a threadbare coat the "only wear," and acknowledge a white-washed garret the fittest housing-place for a gentleman; do this and flee debt. So shall thy head be at peace, and the sheriff be confounded.

Dr. Parr, when a boy at Harrow, had by intense study, acquired so old a looking face for his age, that one day Sir William Jones said to him, jokingly, "Parr, if you should have the good luck to live forty years, you may stand a chance of overtaking your face."

A model return upon a writ was recently made by a deputy sheriff in Morgan county, Indiana. It was: "Served the writ-in, but was fit with brickbats by the woman, so I couldn't serve it."

"Where shall I get a panel?" said the sheriff to a judge.
"Why, I suppose, sir, you can get enough panels out of doors."

"Little boy, who stoned Stephen?"
"The Jews." "Where did they stone him?"
"Beyond the limits of the city."
"What did they take him there for?"
"To get a good shot at him."

Coalition.

The Obstructive organ has expressed a wish that a coalition should be formed to carry on the government. Very properly, too; for the government is only a government in name—it is not so in fact; and whatever special pleading may do, it will never render it different, or convince the public that the government possesses its confidence. Hence it is the height of folly to assume that it does. The Obstructives are crushed by their own admission; and effectually by their acts. The assertion that the public concur in withholding a statement of our finances is totally incorrect. No honest business man can come to any other conclusion than that the country is entitled to it, and that a disposition should be shown to bring it forth. It is mere sophistry to say that a majority has ruled against submitting the accounts. The House is evenly divided on the question. The Speaker's casting vote can alone determine what way the question will be decided, and no moral influence could be exerted; or at least none that would be sufficient to convince the public that if he voted in favor of withholding, that the government would do its duty. The casting vote of the Speaker in that case would be tantamount to defeat; and instead of settling the issue will only keep it alive. In fact, but one opinion can prevail, and that is that the withholding of the accounts smacks of dishonesty and corruption. The first step, therefore, if the Obstructives are honestly disposed to coalesce for the good of the country, is to agree to furnish the accounts. It is impossible to convince the country of honest intentions without them, even if honest intentions were entertained.

Allusion has been made to the Executive "keeping faith with the public." Such a remark is all very well for special pleaders, but it passes in one ear and out of the other, public judgment remaining still the same. It is possible to forgive injuries; yet never to forget them. And when injuries are well known, a sweeping assertion that there has been no repeated violations of public faith, only carries with it a conviction of an utter lack of principle, without which no government can be trusted. The Executive may feel better disposed towards this Colony, and town in particular, than to British Columbia; but there is one circumstance very prominently before the constituency of Victoria, proving conclusively that good faith has not been kept with the public. What we allude to is simply the application for the poll-books by the defeated candidate. The Executive refused this. When the motion for a mandamus was heard before the Chief Justice, he refused it against the Governor; but stated that if a mandamus was asked for against any one else, he would grant it. No plainer implied censure could ever be given; nor one that proves more conclusively that the Executive has not kept faith with the public. If the Obstructives wish to repeat such bad faith with the constituency of Victoria, their present weakness will only be perpetuated, and their eventual defeat be more certain, but not less speedy.

LIQUOR LICENSES.—The Court of Quarter Sessions was busy yesterday in investigating applications for licenses. Three retail ale and porter, twelve wholesale liquor, and twenty-six retail liquor licenses were granted. The application of Tighe & Perrot, for a license to establish a saloon in the El Dorado building; H. Henly, to establish an inn at Belmont; and John G. Wirth, for renewal of license, at the corner of Humboldt and Government streets, were refused. In the matter of the applications of J. D. Carroll, Yates street, and Milvovich & Co., corner of Yates and Government streets, the applicants were informed that in the event of their refusal to furnish any respectable person—negro or white—with liquor, the license would not be renewed in future.

WIFE-BEATING.—Information was brought to the barracks last evening that a man residing on McKenzie's road, Esquimalt district, had beaten his wife so severely that her life was despaired of. Two police officers went down last night to ascertain the truth of the report, and arrest the offender if necessary.

THE FIRE BILL.—The chief officer of each fire company has been requested to attend a meeting of the Legislative Council to-day, in order to give such information as may assist that body in their deliberations in regard to the bill for the protection of members of the Fire Department.

The Indian Question.

A meeting was held at the Collegiate school room on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of concerting measures to ameliorate the condition of the Indian population. One reverend gentleman could not so far forget a "recent occurrence" as to avoid taking us to account for advocating the policy of fostering division among the tribes, instead of union. Possibly the hostility of tribe to tribe is far worse than baby-whipping; yet we are scarcely convinced of it. We are persuaded, however, that, as a small community, with limited means of defence, our policy is not to ally savage tribes together—were it possible—but to divide them. This was illustrated centuries ago, when a New England Sachem took a bundle of twigs to show his English friends how difficult it was to break up an union amongst tribes, and how easy to conquer them when attacked singly. But as the eloquent orator thought proper to characterize division as un-English, we take occasion to remind him that it is not; but that division of power enters largely into the science of government the world over. In Ireland, the English policy has been to foster Orange prejudices for the subjugation of Irishmen and security of English power. The history of European politics—the balance of power—is nothing more nor less than division. In India, from the days of Clive and Hastings down to the present, it has been English policy to oppose prince to prince, and thus to weaken them that when their policy of division was ripe, the supremacy of British power was asserted, extended and maintained, and maintained even by the subjugated. Un-English, therefore, as the orator would have it appear to be, yet English history does not prove it un-English; on the contrary, it supports it. Even if it did not, till we possess the means and power to gather the tribes into reservations, and keep them there, it is not sound policy to dispel the feuds of tribes, who at any moment may overrun our settlements and destroy our lives and property. Whatever good otherwise can be done meets our hearty concurrence; and we hope it may be speedy, for there is great need of it.

CHILD-BEATING APOLOGISTS.—Doctor Tolmie rushed into print yesterday as the apologist of child-beating in the particular instance of young Dodd, alluded to in our last issue. Whether the Doctor believes what he has written, we shall not say, nor do we care; but this we do say, that the charge against us of "misrepresenting and exaggerating a circumstance of recent occurrence," is untrue; and as a guardian of the boy he ought to know it—if he don't already. The truth is, that the facts were not half told. We had wished to spare the teacher as much as possible; and merely gave a portion of the statement we had received from the relatives of the child. It is not our fault that the matter is made more notorious by the publication of the communication to be found in another column. The Rev. Mr. Garrett can only blame his friends, (who wished to save him by a misrepresentation of facts) from the further publicity of the affair. The "advice" of Dr. Helmecken to the child's mother—"whip him and send him back!" reflects no credit upon that gentleman. But the most singular statement is that of the editor (!) of the Gazette, who himself "saw the child, and though it showed the usual marks of a birching, it presented none of the horrible appearances that had been described." This attempt at toadyism is too apparent to need a reply. The pitiable condition of the poor boy, when we visited him, would have moved a heart of stone; and our contemporary is guilty of an untruth when he tries to prove that the child was merely "birched." Such "birching" as the boy received, would in any other country be called "clubbing," and the perpetrator made to suffer most severely. But through the exertions of the Rev. Mr. Cridge, the matter has been hushed up, and there is, we regret to say, no prospect of a judicial investigation.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—We have known of no appointment for the last two years that has met with such general concurrence, as the appointment of W. B. Naylor, Esq., to the office of Sheriff. The public are pleased to find that mere conceit is not always to usurp the place of merit. And were their wishes consulted, instead of long letters from abroad, a very different opinion would soon be entertained of those in power. The men to avoid giving office to are your political hacks, who at any time, to any party, will willingly "bend the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift may follow fawning."

The Indians have been very quiet since the death of the Hydah chiefs. Scarcely a case of theft or assault is now to be heard of. The lesson taught the savages seems to have been beneficial.

The Child Whipping.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST.—A letter, evidently written under high pressure, appears in this morning's Gazette, signed "W. F. Tolmie." Whether intended as a denial of the outrage to which it alludes, or as an exculpation of the Rev. A. C. Garrett, it is equally a failure. Nothing is said respecting the former, but vague platitudes about "misrepresenting and exaggerating," and nothing to excuse the latter but the exceptions of the boy being a boarder (and not a pupil) placed under flogging orders, and the request of Dr. Helmecken to the poor mother, to "whip the boy and send him back." Let us review the case. The boy is seen by his sister at the window of a certain house, and with tears begs her to rescue him from his confinement. The sister advises the mother of the fact; the mother seeks her boy; the superiors of the said house treat her with haughty disdain. The boy is taken home—faints on reaching it; food is given him—he ejects it as soon as taken; he complains of soreness—his body is examined and found literally covered with scars and bruises, his shirt, still bloody, remaining on his person. These facts Dr. Tolmie has not touched. If he denies them, they can be proved by unimpeachable witnesses.

That the doctor has some conscience left is evident, and hence the jesuitical plea—the boy was only a boarder. Dr. Tolmie, the school is a public one; it advertises for pupils, and in the same advertisement holds out the inducement of private boarding. Tell us, was this boy placed under the head master of the Collegiate school for the purposes of educational training, or was he simply under the charge of the Rev. A. C. Garrett? The said charge assuming the form of flogging lectures. In either case, how will you exonerate the above-named gentleman from presumed blame? "Strange such a difference there should be 'twixt twiddle-dum and twiddle-dee." And then, how virtuously indignant is the Doctor at the officiousness of certain persons. Dr. Tolmie forgets that every citizen has a right to criticise the doings of any public institution, and that private outrage is subject to the public verdict. The question is not altogether between the guardians of a certain child and the Rev. A. C. Garrett, but between the fathers and mothers of Victoria and the directors of a public training institution; and Dr. Tolmie may rest assured that however much he may see fit to undertake a presumed wrong, the public, in spite of his ipse dixit, will give their verdict as the facts warrant them to do.

Dotheboys Hall had its Squeers and its patrons, but they belonged to an age whose greatest light was but dimness, and Dr. Tolmie may stand convinced that whatever his views of education may be, the genius of the present age courteth publicity and ignores isolation. PUBLIC OPINION. Victoria, July 11, 1860.

COLONIAL THEATRE.—This theatre will be re-opened this evening by the excellent company of artists from Portland, Oregon, and a choice entertainment is promised us. "The Soldier's Bride," with Miss Susan Robinson as Clarisse, and Mr. L. F. Beatty as Colonel Ferrier, will commence the performance; to be followed by a ballad and "La Cachuca," from Miss Susan, and a comic song from Mr. J. B. Robinson, and concluding with the laughable farce of "Betsey Baker," in which Miss Susan will appear as Betsey, Mr. J. B. Robinson as Marmaduke Mouser, W. H. Robinson as Mr. Crummy, and Mr. L. F. Beatty as Mrs. Mouser. During the progress of this play, "The Sailer Boy" will be sung by Miss Susan. The bill is the best ever offered a Victoria audience, and we look for a full house. The theatre has been newly fitted up, and presents a most creditable appearance.

An Indian War.—Salt Spring Island Settlers in Danger.

A gentleman who arrived from Salt Spring Island gives us an account of the killing of two Cowichans by Fort Rupert Indians, a few days ago. Our informant was in a schooner, not far from Salt Spring Island, and a canoe containing two Indians was observed about two hundred yards from the shore; near the canoe was a whale-boat, in which were two white men. The Indians were engaged in fishing, when around a point of land a short distance off, came several canoes filled with Fort Rupert Indians, making directly for the Cowichan canoe. The latter made for the boat containing the white men, and got into it, evidently seeking protection, and deserting their canoe, which went adrift. The Fort Ruperts soon came alongside, and seizing the unhappy redskins, five or six knives were buried in each, their heads cut off, and the bodies thrown to the fishes. No violence was offered to the white men, who of course, were much alarmed at the terrible sight. The Fort Ruperts, after accomplishing the bloody deed, continued on their course, taking the heads of the victims with them. The next day, one of the heads, divested of its scalp, was found stuck on a tall pole on a small island near Salt Springs.

Much alarm is felt at Salt Spring Island, and government aid is loudly called for. The settlers only number about seventy souls, and they are scattered over a large tract of country, and in case of an attack, could afford but little protection to each other.

In addition to the above information, we have been handed the following letter, received by a gentleman of this city, from the Island, which gives an account of another massacre, and represents the urgent necessity for a military force near that point:

ADULTS, BAY,
Salt Spring Island, July 8, 1880.
Mr. CHAS. GOWEN, Victoria.
Dear Sir:—I have had very exciting times here since I last wrote. On Wednesday morning, 4th July, an Indian canoe came in here with nine men, two boys and three women of the Bella-Bella tribe. They were conveying to this side a person by the name of McCawley, who had business here. At the time of their arrival, there were about 50 Indians, of the Cowichan tribe, encamped here, who appeared friendly to them. However, while McCawley was up at my house, we were startled at the sound of firearms on the beach. The Indians by this time had got into a regular fight, which lasted about an hour, and terminated in the Cowichans killing eight men and plundering the canoe, which they carried off with the women and boys, whom they took as prisoners. This occurred close to the beach. They fired some 200 shots, some of the bullets flying close by our heads. I sent my wife and children through the woods to the other side, for safety. Some of the settlers came over from there at night. One of the Bella-Bellas, who had escaped, came to my house. As I could not give him shelter without danger to myself, I passed him on to the other side of the Island. I hope he escaped. He had two bullets in him—one in the cheek, and the other through the arm. The Cowichans did not, I believe, lose a man. It was a treacherous affair on the part of the Cowichans, who had all the position and numbers, and professed friendship, which misled the Bella-Bellas. All the Indians have now left the Bay, anticipating, I suppose, at attack from the Northern Indians. I intend addressing the Governor on the subject, soliciting some protection from these savages; for, should they come here and find the Cowichans had left, and learn the defenceless position we are in on this Island, they can tell what they may attempt here, after the troubles in Victoria. Surely the Government will see the necessity of affording us protection to meet the emergency.
Yours, etc. W. F. LINSKER.

The case of John Jones, the celebrated Indian whisky seller, has been continued until this morning.

House of Assembly.

TUESDAY, July 10th, 1880.
House met at 3.20, P. M. Present—Speaker Helmecken, and Messrs. Gordon, Foster, Cooper, Coles, Waddington, Cary, Franklin, Talmie, Southgate, McDonald, Crease, and Green.

Mr. Gordon asked leave to postpone the next meeting of the Election Committee till Tuesday next, owing to Mr. De Cosmos' Attorney being absent from the city. Granted.

The Election Committee have obtained permission to hold their future meetings in the old Supreme Court-room, in the Police Barracks.

A message was received from the Governor, notifying the House that the Oaths Bill, as amended, had been signed, and was now a law.

House went into Committee on the Supplies, Mr. Waddington in the chair.

The Committee waited fifteen minutes for a communication which Mr. Cary said he expected from His Excellency the Governor, at the expiration of which time, no message arriving, the members proceeded to business.

Mr. Cary introduced a bill providing that the amount voted for the Civil List (£3,200) out of the general revenue, be not paid until the whole of the general revenue and the entire land of Vancouver Island and its dependencies, be placed under the control of the legislature of the said colony.

Mr. Helmecken moved an addition to the bill, "That the House will not be responsible for any debts incurred prior to the payment of the Civil List."

Mr. Coles wished to know if this was a proper mode of procedure—introducing a bill in Committee?

The Chairman—No; we must rise and report progress on the Estimates first.

The Committee rose and reported Estimates Nos. 1, 2, and 4 complete. The Speaker read Estimate No. 1, and asked the pleasure of the House.

Mr. Coles—In regard to the salary of the Chief Justice, I would offer, "provided the salary be paid to none other but a regularly qualified barrister of law." This resolution was referred to the Committee of Supply, and No. 2 taken up. The report was adopted.

The House again went into Committee of Supply.

Mr. Coles' resolution was taken up.

Mr. Coles—The Chief Justice must be a legal man, and none other than a lawyer can fill the position properly.

Mr. Cary—Under present circumstances we cannot change the salary and fees have been laid down, and a certain amount of expenditure is allowed. Out of the general revenue the Chief Justice will not be paid; but out of the special revenue he will. If the House adopts this proviso, it will be shutting the door upon the reforms we contemplate, and increase the fees of the Court.

Mr. Coles—I would ask the hon. gentleman if he believes the Chief Justice is competent to fill the position he occupies?

Mr. Cary declined to express an opinion, and said the proper way to the hon. gent. to do was to bring forward a separate resolution, and not a proviso.

The Chairman—If the hon. member acquiesces, it may be drawn up in the shape of an address to His Excellency at some future time, asking that another Chief Justice be appointed.

Mr. Coles withdrew his amendment, and the Committee rose and reported progress.

The House went into Committee on the ways and means for raising a revenue.

Mr. Coles moved that the harbor dues, heretofore paid into the Treasury, shall henceforth be paid into a separate fund, to be devoted to the improvement of Victoria harbor, and the bridge-road to Esquimalt.

Mr. Cary spoke at some length upon the necessity of improving Victoria harbor.

Mr. Cooper thought a railroad or a canal would eventually be built, which would obviate the necessity of spending money on the harbor.

Mr. Helmecken—When we have to depend upon communication other than by water Victoria is gone in.

The Chairman here decided the last sentence in the resolution out of order, and it was put in this form—That the harbor dues heretofore collected, shall hereafter be paid into the treasury to a separate account. Carried.

Mr. Cooper requested the clerk to record his vote in the negative, as he would never vote one cent towards improving Victoria harbor.

Mr. Cary moved that a tax of one per cent be levied on all real estate in the colony.

Mr. Waddington—If the real estate is taxed for the benefit of the colony, and billiard tables, bowling alleys, etc., there will be very little left for the city corporation to raise money on.

Mr. Cary—When the corporation is formed, there will be no difficulty in finding sufficient ways to raise money. The city has depreciated in value for want of the needed improvements. The city will be all the richer by a judicious system of taxation.

Mr. McDonald—Will the corporation have any control over the one per cent. levied on real estate?

Mr. Cary—Certainly not; that will go to support the colony.

Mr. Coles—A great many of us bought lands at five dollars an acre, and we were told that the reason we paid more than our American neighbors was, because the bridges were all made and no rates were to be levied.

Mr. Helmecken—By-gones are by-gones; the money is gone, and we must be satisfied.

Mr. Coles—It was a very dishonest course for the government to pursue.

Mr. Helmecken—It must be recollected that the town has lived upon the country for the last ten years. Victoria has not paid a cent in the way of taxes, except lately in licenses. I think that the town site of Victoria is worth £500,000. [Oh, oh.] The land in the outskirts should be taxed at the government price; the improvements should not be taken into consideration.

Mr. Cary wished to know what the value of the farming lands would be if the improvements were not taken.

Mr. Helmecken—£100,000.

Mr. Cary—It is not so; and I am informed on good authority that the town site is worth only £300,000. The idea advanced by the hon. member of taxing the city to support the country is unfair.

Mr. Coles thought it very hard that a man who spits rails for his farm would have to pay for it. Don't tax the farmers too much, or they will be compelled to leave for some country where the taxes are not so heavy. You will have to take the farms, too; they cannot pay heavy taxes.

Mr. Foster hoped that taxes would not be levied alike. The only way to put an end to speculation, and the lying idle of large tracts of land, is to tax them; but don't tax improvements. The tax in the American country is much less than that proposed here. If you tax unimproved lands, you will put an end to speculation; but if you tax improvements, you will soon put an end to them.

Mr. Cooper agreed with the hon. member—improvements should not be taxed in the farming districts.

Mr. Talmie thought it inexpedient to bear hard on the poor farmer. The only way we could benefit them is not to tax them too heavily. The free port has opened the doors to the foreign produce, which of course deluges the markets.

Mr. Crease favored Mr. Helmecken's amendment. The farmers should not be taxed for their improvements. If you put a tax, as is contemplated, on the farmers, you will have to confiscate their lands. They will have to sell their property, and although it may fall into the hands of capitalists, it may never be improved.

Mr. Franklin favored the putting of a tax, about 6d. a ton, on coal, to fill up the gap between improved and unimproved land.

Mr. Helmecken spoke in favor of putting a tax on all persons who did not hold property.

The resolution was then adopted, with Mr. Helmecken's addition, and reads thus:

That a tax of 1 per cent. be levied on all real estate in the colony, but that agricultural improvements and buildings be excepted.

The Committee then rose and reported progress to the House.

The Speaker—I believe the members of the Election Committee have not been sworn in.

Mr. Crease—[Suddenly rising and bundling up his papers]—I am very sick. The hon. gentleman hurried out of the House with great haste and a smiling countenance.

The Speaker—[Calling after Mr. Crease]—I give notice that I shall swear in the members of the Election Committee at the next meeting.

The House then adjourned till Thursday, 12th instant, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Acidity, Flatulency, Jaundice, Change of Climate, Sick Headache, Loss of Appetite, Female Complaints, Oppression after Eating, and General Debility are rapidly, effectually and surely cured by the OXYGENATED BITTERS.

CALIFORNIA EVIDENCE.
Mokelumne Hill, Cal., June 16th, 1853.
Having suffered for fifteen years with Dyspepsia, in its worst form, and having consulted with the best physicians, and tried everything recommended without relief, I was induced to try the Oxygenated Bitters, and before I had taken one bottle I found myself much better, and continued taking them until I was entirely cured, and now enjoy as good health as I ever did in my life. I take pleasure in recommending them to all who are similarly afflicted.

JAS. LANGSHORE.
The "Oxygenated Bitters" are sold in California by Henry Johnson & Co., Redington & Co., and Chas. Morrill, San Francisco; R. H. McDonald & Co., and Chas. Morrill & Co., Sacramento; Rice & Coffin, Marysville; Smith & Davis, Portland, Oregon.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—The only pure and genuine Balsam is, and for the last twenty years has been, prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & Co., of Boston; and their printed name, as well as the written signature of J. B. Wistar, appear on the outer wrappers. As you would avoid the spurious and have the genuine, take no other!

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—This invaluable remedy is the best extant for the safe, sure, speedy and permanent cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy, Pneumonia, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bleeding at the Lungs, pain in the breast or side, and in fact every form of Throat, Chest and Lung Complaint, as well as Consumption itself.

This household remedy should be in the hands of every family and individual, as a timely application of it to a slight cold will cause immediate relief; while cases of long standing, obstinate, and apparently incurable character, will surely yield to its wonderful curative powers and its great adaptability to the wants of man when afflicted.

For sale in California by Redington & Co., Henry Johnson & Co., Charles Morrill, San Francisco; R. H. McDonald & Co., Sacramento; Rice, Coffin & Co., Marysville; Smith & Davis, Portland, Oregon.

DR. ADOLPHUS'
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
— AND —
Health Restorative

IS THE MOST VALUABLE AND UN- surpassed remedy for Rheumatism and Gout to be found in the world, or known at present. The discoverer of the above medicine does claim its infallibility in all cases of Rheumatism and Gout—when used according to direction—and does offer a reward of five thousand dollars to any medicine that does supersede it, and is entirely vegetable. The doctor is enabled to offer the above reward on account of his having used the above medicine for ten years in his practice, and has never known it to fail in the cure of the most protracted cases of Rheumatism and Gout, and withstood all known remedies to the profession. Doctor Adolphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the State, for his cures in Rheumatism, Gout and Chronic Diseases, and has only to the continued urgent efforts of his patients, and through the terror as well to the physician, not enabled to see him personally, or to spend a fortune to get rid of the disease, which they have contracted in the pursuit of their daily calling; only this has been able to persuade the Doctor to give the above medicine to the public, and at such terms that every suffering one should be able to reap its benefits.

As a Health Restorative its value supersedes all the mineral wealth and riches of California; and is creating a revolution in the whole treatment of disease throughout the world.

In secondary and tertiary Syphilis, Scrofula, Enlargement of the Glands, Dropsy, and all Nervous and Cutaneous Diseases, and the whole train of Chronic Diseases, which withstand and baffle the skill of the most excellent and learned physician in the world; in Chronic Diseases, whose very name is a terror to the physician, as to the patient. This medicine has proved to be superior to any in existence, and has cured in so short a time that they appeared like being abolished by magic influence, and in fact a few more such discoveries, and druggists for use, made every sufferer to be his own physician in the above named diseases.

Thinking it under my dignity to follow the mode of quacks, by appending certificates of physicians or private persons, which is too well known can be had for certain remuneration, applications of friends, or by the mode of boring a man half to death for even the most worthless trash, I will therefore leave it to those in want of medicine to inquire personally of men who have been cured by my medicines of the above diseases, and who can be found in almost every city and village throughout the State. I consider such personal conviction far superior to certificates of persons that are far from being known to them in want of medical aid.

But should any one care for written testimonials or certificates regarding the cures performed by this medicine, they might call at my office, and I will show them certificates of true merit, which have been sent to me voluntarily, without applying for them, or by boring individuals to get them.

To satisfy the most scrupulous of men, also as a guarantee to those that have not had the opportunity of knowing the Doctor by reputation or personally, I have added to every bottle of the Anti-Rheumatic Cordial, the certificate, under oath, of one of the most celebrated analytical chemists in the United States, that there are no minerals nor poisons contained in this medicine, and that it is a very powerful medicine, and has a very strong action on the human system, which it necessarily must have, to overcome the action of disease of such malignant character.

CAUTION.
Owing to the unexplained demand for these Bitters, some unprincipled parties have endeavored to counterfeit them. The genuine ROSENBAUM have the name of N. B. JACOBS & CO. branded on each cork, and their signature on the label. Beware also of a worthless article, called ROSENBAUM'S Bitters, put up in this city.
